

How to Read Summaries:

The KSW contain massive amounts of mind-blowing information, so in order to help facilitate our study and to better digest what Mr. Keshe is teaching, a KS has been organizing some of the most recent workshops first with "Key Words." They are just a few words at the beginning of each transcript so you can quickly search for topics of interest.

Next are "Key Phrases." The first line of the Key Phrase is a compact sentence briefly summarizing a single concept taught by Mr. Keshe. Following that sentence may be a paragraph of what was taught. This allows you to quickly get the main part of the information. Sometimes there will be only 1 sentence, this is because the concept fits easily into 1 sentence. There is an empty space between each concept. You will also see time marks in the key phrases. These were left in to help you find the original teaching for in-depth study.

Keep in mind that these transcript/summaries are a work in progress, and not at all complete. But having said that, they contain huge amounts of information, that becomes available to everybody immediately.

The transcript/summaries contain:

Number of the workshop; Date
Key words (Only in the most Recent KSW Transcripts);
Key phrases (Only in the most Recent KSW Transcripts);
Summaries (in easy flowing English);
Original transcript (word for word, time marks every 2 minutes on even number).
