Summary:

Mr. Keshe educated us on how the Coronavirus was patented recently and its launch was timed to become public just before the Chinese New Year in an attempt to totally destabilize the Chinese government. It was a well planned release in specific locations in the same manner as the African Swine Flu for pigs. This is a new strategy developed by the American government for mass killings through viruses. However, the perpetrators had not counted on the Keshe Foundation (KF) responding in such a simple way to overcome it, that is, "One Cup: One Life" in which everyone can easily make the Gans at home to save their own lives and that of their neighbors. From now on any attempt to use viruses against humanity will be easily overcome through the KF Technology.

They never considered that up to 1 million people travel out of China everyday and we see the virus has already traveled to Europe, North and South America, Africa and Australia. He says, it is impossible to contain this virus and it will spread to all countries but some countries don't have a system to trace the virus. We hope to contain it soon through the Technology in China.

This is not a normal virus, it is well designed and patented and they have already made all of the antidotes for it. The plan was setup 3 to 4 years ago, they were to sell 1.4 billion doses of the vaccine to the Chinese government at $10 to $20 each, and in that way, they would control the finances of China. You don't patent a virus and then release it, but then, they invaded Libya for $14 billion in gold. The virus creates a condition, but the KF Technology can handle it and we are well established around the world and will respond accordingly.

The funny thing is the way they released it through animals into humans.

The Iranian scientists are commissioned to develop a technology for this very purpose that should be ready sometime by the end of February or March and with it we'll see a lot of systems on sale at the KF. Then any future kind of viruses, can be measured and immediately responded back to.

We were expecting this tailor made virus a year ago and I informed the Chinese government to be on the watch for a second batch of viruses. They were hoping the Pig Flu would cross the human gene barrier and would come out as a mass murder to bring the Chinese government down.

We were waiting for it as a double virus, one that would come through the pigs (last year) and then one through a second animal, what we see this year. This then brings the two together like epoxy glue, when you mix the 2 tubes together you get a composite. What we see happening is what was written in the patent. This is why I was expecting to see the second virus around January this year. So this is part of it, and we see it. It comes through animals. The Pig Flu was a double-strand and this one is a single-strand. So now what we are looking for, is how the people who are dying of Coronavirus, are connected to the people who consumed the infected pig meat.

This atrocity was expected from the Americans towards the Chinese. I said to the Chinese authorities last year, 'they are going to hit you near the New Year.' This was expected and it's exactly within the time frame. You have to understand these things are heavily financed by certain organizations, because to them it's just a profit. The human race doesn't count. The Second World War was started on the same basis.

We even have a photo of the tiny drone like machine they used to spread the virus. American agents travel around the world with these tiny drones and release the virus as tourists. You can never imagine that it is done this way. The amazing thing about the Americans is, they call everybody else terrorists, but they themselves are terrorizing everybody.

The way the Pig Flu traveled across China baffled the Chinese authorities, but it was very easy for us, because we already had information and knew how they were doing it. But the authorities could not believe that they could make it so small.

You'll be amazed how well planned this thing has been. This very tiny drone fits between the fingers, and there is a little hole in the front where the virus sprays out. All they need to do is to release the drone near the pig farms and then it usually lands in the pig's sewage so nobody ever sees it.

It's a very tiny machine and you would never think it has such a power. All they need to do is to spread a little bit first, and then it grows in the animal and slowly takes over. The funny thing is that last year in China, suddenly it sprung up out of nowhere in the pig farms. It baffled the Chinese authorities, 'where could this thing have come from?' When I went to the pig farms I could see firsthand how it was being processed.

American CIA agents carry the drones in their pocket as American tourists, as now China is open and free to travel, then they release these miniature drones in the air. What's happening is not accidental, we were expecting it. It's what I call a composite virus and it's made from a double virus. The puzzling thing was how the African flu was coming from the North all the way down to the South, so quickly, in such a short time. And then this Coronavirus is spreading from South to North, it's because they covered the both sides. At least that is how it looks from the pattern.

From Questions:

If you can, it seems that it is better to make the Gans for the virus by the method shown in the video, "One Cup: One Life" because the amino acid is in the correct strength which is vital for the full effectiveness in processing the virus. The answer to the second question was, the immune system has no memory of viruses as such, because it's an energy pack and it sits in RNA.
